Ickburgh School is a successful special school providing for children and young adults between the ages of 3 to 19, supporting them towards fulfilment, belonging, and independence. The school serves pupils and students with a wide range of SEND, including PMLD, SLD, and SLD with ASD.

We are looking for teachers who will contribute to a strong school vision and ethos.

We welcome NQT's and teachers with experience, who have taught young people with special needs, in mainstream or special needs provision.

The successful candidate must also:

- Be able to understand how our young people learn and plan lessons which will inspire them to reach their full potential.
- Be able to create a positive, stimulating and caring learning environment that safeguards young people.
- Be a good communicator and work effectively with members of our community, including families, health and social care practitioners, and Hackney Education.
- Have good organisational, management and interpersonal skills, to effectively lead a small class team, and manage own workload.
- Be an innovative, patient, resilient, positive and reflective practitioner, contributing to the school's vision and values.
- Be willing to participate in training, be reflective and committed to continuing professional development.

We offer excellent continuing professional development opportunities (accredited as an Area of Excellence by Challenge Partners) to enable all teachers to reach their personal best.
