

Teaching Assistants

Salary: £25,054.28

(Pro Rata'd for 32.5 hours per week, 45.25 paid weeks)

Position starts: September 2026

We have vacancies for Teaching Assistants to join our school community. We are seeking to appoint a good communicator, friendly and approachable, who is willing to learn new ways of working with children with special needs. We are looking for someone who strives for high standards of themselves and will help us safeguard children's wellbeing, and enable them to enjoy school life, thrive and achieve their very best.

The successful applicant will:

- Enjoy working with children in a school environment and understand that the children are central to all decision making, upon which your role has an impact.
- Be committed to safeguarding and protecting children.
- Be able to work effectively as a team member, under direction and independently.
- Be confident, respectful, and credible, and exude high standards.
- Be supportive to the school team.
- Be intuitive, caring and maintain high regard for confidentiality at all times.
- Be a calm, effective communicator, confident in liaising with all colleagues, children and parents.
- Be willing to undertake professional development.

Ickburgh School can offer you:

- Continued professional development
- A strong professional team of enthusiastic staff to work alongside you within a supportive and constructive ethos.
